DEER AND WILDCAT IN MORTAL COMBAT

Miniature Electrical Plant Built by a Mokelumne Hill Boy—Coyote Attacks a Dog.

EL DORADO COUNTY.

Nugget, Placerville, January 5th.

Marco Brono had his right hand entirely blown off Monday morning by the explosion of a giant powder cartridge. He lighted it and held it in his hand, with the above result. Dr. Rantz was called in to attend the sufferer and found the hand entirely off. The doctor amputated the ragged edge and Bruno is resting as easy as possible under the existing circumstances.

Democrat, Placerville, January 6th.

Between Placerville and the Strahle slate quarry at Kelsey, broken only at the river, there is a broad and continuous belt of the best slate in the world. Of this we have the sworn testimony of experienced and scientific experts of several nationalities. Still better and more of it, there is the demand for the manufactured product vastly exceeding possible supply by present working force and appliances. With enlarged facilities of manufacture and transportation, our slate industry is slated for a splendid future.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hinkson of Amador City spent Christmas in Placerville as the guests of Mrs. Hinkson's mother, Mrs. Knights.

W. W. Tong met with quite a painful accident a few days ago. While moving a harrow he tripped and fell, running one of the harrow teeth through his hand. The wound is doing nicely, and he says it doesn't make much difference anyway, as his buggy horse does not require a driver.

CALAVERAS COUNTY.

Chronicle, Mokelumne Hill, January 6th.

Peter Dolma, a laundryman who up to ten days ago lived at Angels Camp, died suddenly at his lodgings at 411 Pacific street, some time yesterday afternoon. The man's death was discovered about 6 o'clock by an employee of the house, who reported it to the coroner. In Dolma's room were found two small bottles, one of which was filled with strychnine, while the other was empty. Its contents, from the appearance of a glass tumbler close by, had been utilized to destroy the man's life. The body was taken to the Morgue, where an inquest will be held.

Citizen, San Andreas, January 6th.

The news comes from the grading camps on the line of the extension of the Sierra Railway from Jamestown to Angels Camp that the recent storms have made the ground too soft for scraping, and, finding they could make no satisfactory progress in the uncertain weather, the contractors have laid off their crews until a dry spell is assured. The roadbed has been graded from Jamestown to Table Mountain, but work on the cut through the upheaval is not completed. Graders have moved on north of Table Mountain crossing and were working near the old settlement known as Jeffersonville when work was stopped, owing to the wetness of the country.

Work on the steel bridge over the Stanislaus river is being pushed along satisfactorily. Excavations of bedrock were made for the foundations of the steel cylinders, which form the north and south piers of the structure and the piers were finished last week. The false work on which the steel structure will be framed is being raised and no further delay is looked for in that work.

Prospect, San Andreas, January 6th.

J. C. Wilson and Martin Layman were arrested at an early hour Monday morning on Twenty-fourth street by Policeman Thompson, after a desperate struggle, and were booked on a charge of burglary. An additional charge of carrying a concealed weapon was registered against Wilson. Thompson saw the two men standing in the doorway of Mossford's hardware-store, 3825 Twenty-fourth street, and asked them what they were doing there at such an unseemly hour. They told him to mind his own business, and Thompson proceeded to do so by placing the handcuffs on Wilson's wrists.

The above article appeared in last Tuesday's San Francisco Call. The two men whose names appear therein were in San Andreas some time during the month of November last and remained here two or three days. They represented that they were ex-soldiers of the late war and photographers, and were taking orders for enlarging pictures. There is no doubt, however, but that the picture business was only a side issue or a convenient auxiliary to their crooked work.

One evening last week as Martin Donnellan was returning to town in a cart from his claim near the Donnellan bridge, a large coyote attacked his dog which was following a short distance behind the vehicle. The dog ran for his master, closely pursued by the coyote. Reaching the cart, the dog ran under it and the coyote approached within three feet of the rig. Martin picked up his gun quickly and fired several shots at the animal, wounding it, but it managed to escape.

Frank Peek Jr. of Mokelumne Hill, a lad about eighteen years of age, lately turned his attention to the study of electrical science, and, after procuring the necessary books, pursued his studies alone and unaided during spare time. He soon acquired such an understanding of the work that he conceived the idea, a few weeks ago, of building a small dynamo. With a soldering iron, files and such crude tools as may be found around a dwelling-house, he built a dynamo sure enough. It is a small affair that one could easily put in his overcoat pocket, but it works like a charm.

The armature, including pulley and bearings, is about seven inches in length, and the field magnets, including the pole pieces, are one and five-eighths inches in diameter and five inches in length; the field winding contains about two pounds of wire and the whole is two and one-half inches in diameter; the commutator is one-quarter of an inch in length and has twelve segments; the brushes are one inch wide and one and one-half inches long. This is run by a little four-inch waterwheel propelled by a stream of water from a three-quarter-inch rubber hose. A home-made battery is also used in connection with the motor. With the power thus generated he propelled his mother's sewing machine, also a home-made electric fan, and had power enough besides for two electric lights. The little machine is quite a curiosity and the workmanship would not be a discredit to even a more finished electrician.

TUOLUMNE COUNTY.

Independent, Sonora, January 6th.

There was a hot time in the old town last Sunday night, when the year was ushered out and the new one welcomed with all varieties of noise. The ringing of bells, the explosion of dynamite and the unmusical fishbombs were, as usual, a part of the programme, but there was an addition to the celebration in the shape of the firing of the too handy revolver, which latter amusement would have gladly been dispensed with by our citizens. Bullets sped so lively during the night that a majority of the signs on both sides of Washington street were decorated with from one to six bullet-holes and many awnings were likewise perforated. The proper place for these wild and woolly revelers was in the lockup, and it is unfortunate that such wholesale disregard of peace and quietude should go unpunished. Noise is legitimate at the coming of the new year, but bullets are dangerous to life and no improvement to property.

New Era, Carters, January 5th.

E. S. Isenberg, a Sonora merchant, was mysteriously shot on New Year eve in that city while walking down Washington street. The bullet entered just above the heart, passed near the aorta and penetrated the lung, and, although the wound is a serious one, it may not result fatally. Who fired the shot is not known and may never be, as there was considerable promiscuous shooting on that night, and from all accounts there should have been numerous arrests. We are told that many participated in that careless and dangerous "amusement." The unfortunate man was picked up by two young men who were passing by and taken to the home of Otto Kanig, where he is under careful attention.

Union Democrat, Sonora, January 6th.

In making a professional call last week Dr. Bromley had occasion to travel the Parrot's Ferry road, and passing a particularly wild and lonely point his attention was arrested by two wild animals engaged in a life and death struggle. At the same time his horses stopped and trembled with fright. The fighting animals were probably seventy-five yards distant from the doctor, who soon discovered that a deer was struggling to free itself from the vicious grip of a large wildcat. The doctor endeavored to urge forward his horses, but they, too, were witnesses to the encounter and refused to move. Finally the deer fell to the ground, and the wildcat, discovering the observing party, sought safety in the brush. Tying his team, the doctor approached the scene of conflict, and there upon the ground lay the dead deer with a crimson stream flowing from a deep throat wound inflicted by the claws and teeth of the wildcat. Not forgetful of the methods pursued in his days of sportsmanship, the doctor hurriedly and properly hung the venison to a convenient tree and proceeded on his journey. He informed a young fellow of the sight he had witnessed, described the locality and the tree to which the venison was hanging. The following day the doctor was presented with a nice hunk of deer meat. We are conscious that many people unacquainted with Dr. Bromley will doubt the above, and we want to vouch for his veracity and sobriety.

"I am indebted to One Minute Cough Cure for my health and life. It cured me of lung trouble following grip. Thousands of other lives to the prompt action of this never failing remedy. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, grip and throat and lung troubles. Its early use prevents consumption. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. City Pharmacy."

They Ate Their Words.

The post graduate student who was describing the Patagonian expedition had an enthralled audience. "And for nine days," he said, "after our boat was lost, we had nothing to eat except our college yell."

His hearers shuddered. A scientific education held many possibilities.

VERY HIGHEST ANTIQUITY

Creditor and Debtor, Spend-thrift and Miser.

"COURIER'S" IRONICAL EULOGY ON DEBT

Says Spend and Regale: Save a Dollar and You Lay It up for a Thief.

Debt is of the very highest antiquity. The first debt in the history of man is the debt of nature, and the first instinct is to put off the payment of it to the last moment. Many persons, it will be observed, following the natural procedure, would die before they would pay their debts.

Society is composed of two classes, debtors and creditors. The creditor class has been erroneously supposed the more enviable. Never was there a greater misconception; and the hold it yet maintains upon opinion is a remarkable example of the obstinacy of error, notwithstanding the plainest lessons of experience. The debtor has the sympathies of mankind. He is seldom spoken of but with expressions of tenderness and compassion—"the poor debtor!" and "the unfortunate debtor!" On the other hand, harsh and hard-hearted are the epithets allotted to the creditor spoken of? No, the creditor never becomes the object of pity, unless he passes into the debtor class. A creditor may be ruined by the poor debtor, but it is not until he becomes unable to pay his own debts, that he begins to be compassionated.

A debtor is a man of mark. Many eyes are fixed upon him; many have interest in his well-being; his movements are of concern; he cannot disappear unheeded; his name is in many mouths; his name is upon many books; he is a man of note—of promise; note; he fills the speculation of many minds; men conjecture about him, wonder and conjecture whether he will pay. He is a man of consequence, for many are running after him. His door is thronged with duns. He is inquired after every hour of the day. Judges hear of him and know him. Every meal he swallows, every coat he puts upon his back, every dollar he borrows, appears before the country in some formal document. Compare his notoriety with the obscure lot of the creditor, of the man who has nothing but claims on the world; a landlord, or fundholder, or some such disagreeable hard character.

The man who pays his way is unknown in his neighborhood. You ask the milkman at his door, and he cannot tell you his name. You ask the butcher where Mr. Payall lives, and he will tell you there is no such person in the neighborhood. People that have his money fast in their pockets have no thought of his person or appellation. His house is only known: No. 71 is good pay, No. 71 is ready money. It is an anonymous house; its owner pays his way to obscurity. No one knows anything about him or heeds his movements. If a carriage be seen at his door, the neighborhood is not full of concern lest he be going to run away. If a package be moved from his home, a score of boys are not employed to watch whether it be carried to the pawnbroker. Mr. Payall fills no place in the public mind; no one has any hopes or fears about him.

The creditor always figures in the fancy as a sour, single man, with grizzled hair, a scowling countenance and a premonitory air, who always lives in a dark apartment, with musty deeds about him and an iron safe, as impenetrable as his heart, grabbing together what he does not enjoy. The debtor, on the other hand, is always pictured with a wife and six fair-haired daughters, bound together in affection and misery, full of sensibility, and suffering without a fault. The creditor, it is never doubted, thrives without a merit. He has no wife and children to pity. No one ever thinks it desirable that he should have the means of living. He is a brute for insisting that he must receive, in order to pay. It is not in the imagination of man to conceive that his creditor has demands upon him which must be satisfied, and that he must do to others as others must do to him. A creditor is a personification of exaction. He is supposed to be always taking in, and never giving out.

People idly fancy that the possession of riches is desirable. What blindness! Spend and regale. Save a dollar and you lay it up for a thief. The prudent men are the men who live beyond their means. Happen what may, they are safe. They have taken time by the forelock. They have anticipated fortune. The wealthy fool with gold in store, has only denied himself so much enjoyment, which another will seize at his expense. Look at those people in a panic. See who are the fools then. You may say as one of them goes by in an agony of apprehension, "There is a stupid fellow who fancied himself rich because he had fifty thousand dollars in the bank." The history of the last thirty years has taught the moral, "Spend and regale." Whatever is laid up beyond the present hour is put in jeopardy. There is no certainty but in instant enjoyment. Look at the school boys sharing a plum cake. The knowing ones eat, as for a face; but a stupid fellow saves his portion; just nibbles a bit and keeps the rest for another time. Most provident blockhead! The others, when they gobbled up their shares, set upon him, plunder him and thresh him for crying out.

Before the terms "depreciation," "suspension," etc., were heard, there might have been some reason in the practice of laying up; but now it denotes the darkest blindness. The prudent men of the present time are the men in debt. In any case the debtor is safe. He has put his enjoyments behind him; they are safe; no turns of fortune can disturb them. The substance he has eaten up is irrevocable. The future cannot trouble his past. He has nothing to apprehend. He has anticipated more than fortune would ever have granted him. He has tricked fortune; and his creditors—bah! who feels for creditors? What are creditors? Landlords; a pitiless and unpitiable tribe; all gripping extortioners! What would become of the world of debtors, if it did not steal a march upon this rapacious class?—Gardner-ville Courier.

On Every Bottle

Of Shiloh's Consumption cure is this guarantee: "All we ask of you is to use two-thirds of the contents of this bottle faithfully, then if you can say you are not benefited, return the bottle to your druggist and he may refund the price paid." Our Meats Will Win.

American beef no longer sneezes with disfavor in the British market. After years of experience with it the people are more friendly toward it than ever. Many shops now display signs calling attention to the fact that they handle "prime American beef," whereas, a few years ago, such an announcement would have seriously injured their trade. American beef has been tried and found satisfactory by the greatest and most critical meat-consuming nation of Europe. It is a safe prediction that sooner or later our meats will win a similar victory in other European countries. Merit and cheapness are a hard combination to keep down. These countries which now hold out against our good and cheap meats are placing themselves at a serious disadvantage industriously, as compared with their more liberal competitors. Dear food means dear labor, either in price or in efficiency, among civilized nations, and this means costly production, which makes competition impossible in these days of cheap products. It is only a question of time when Germany, which is making vigorous attempts to become the foremost industrial nation of Europe, will be forced to realize these truths, and to admit American meats in order to maintain her industrial position.

How Is Your Wife?

Has she lost her beauty? If so constipation, indigestion, sick headache, are the principal causes, Karl's Clover Root Tea has cured these ills for half a century. Price 25c and 50c. Money refunded if results are not satisfactory. For sale by A. Goldner, Druggist.

Minnesota's Pines Failing.

According to the best estimates available, there are now 7,000,000,000 feet of white pine still standing within the borders of the State of Minnesota. To one who is unacquainted with the magnitude of the lumber interests in the State this would seem to indicate that lumbering will continue to be one of the State's great industries for some years to come; but when it is stated further that this pine is melting away at the rate of 1,500,000,000 feet every year, it requires but a minute's computation to demonstrate that this industry is rapidly drawing to a close, and that in another five years, if the present rate of consumption continues, an end will have been reached to the lumber business of the State. The mills of Minneapolis will cut almost 120,000,000 feet more lumber this year than in any that has preceded it, and preparations are making for an even larger output for next season. This winter more than 15,000 men will be employed in the pine woods, and more logs will be banked, if conditions are favorable, than ever before. The wages paid these men will aggregate about $150,000 per month, and they will be steadily employed until the spring breakup.

Tell Your Sister

A beautiful complexion is an impossibility without good pure blood. The sort that only exists in connection with good digestion, a healthy liver and bowels. Karl's Clover Root Tea acts directly on the bowels, liver and kidneys, keeping them in perfect health. Price 25c and 50c. For sale by A. Goldner, Druggist.

Agricultural Strategy.

Colonel Waylie, of Alabama, is something of an amateur farmer, but the darkies play sad havoc with his choice vegetables. This year he thought he would be a strategist, and so he called his old gardener to him and said: "Look here, Uncle Henry: I'm trying an experiment with the west field for a chemist downtown. The corn is a poison variety, and if any one of the darkies about here touch it they will be killed sure. You'd better warn them, hadn't you?"

"Sartinly I will: sartinly I will," responded the old negro. "Well, do you think it will have any effect on them?" asked his employer. "Do you think it will prevent them from stealing it?" "What do I think 'bout it?" queried the old man. "I think dar'll be a lot o' dade niggers 'round, hyer sho' dat's what I think 'bout it."

Elevating It.

"What we need," said the editor, "is higher criticism." Thereupon he issued orders to have the book reviewer and the dramatic critic given offices on the top floor.

His Queer Catch.

One of the queerest experiences in catching trout that any man ever had was that at Mooshead lake recently by a sportsman named Williams. He was standing on the apron of the dam at Wilson's, fishing in the quick water below, and had met with fair success. Near the shore, on his right hand, in a little eddy, he noticed a barrel lying on its side in several feet of water. He found that it was an old molasses barrel and was lying so that he could see the bung hole.

Of course, the barrel was full of water, and the man had no idea there was a fish inside of it, but just for curiosity he dropped his hook through the hole, and no sooner had it landed there than the water was boiling, and the fisherman knew that he had a trout on the other end. He played him until the fish was tired, and when he came to land him he could not get him through the hole. He secured a saw and sawed a piece out of the top of the barrel, near the hole. The fish came out. It weighed three pounds and was one of the handsomest square tails caught in that section this year.

One of the guides said that the trout must have gone into the barrel when quite small and had lived on bugs and worms which had taken up their abode inside.

Do You Know

Consumption is preventable! Science has proven that, and also that neglect is suicidal. The worst cold or cough can be cured with Shiloh's Cough and Consumption Cure. Sold on positive guarantee for over fifty years. For sale by A. Goldner, Druggist.

Big Ships to Be.

Designs for the greatest battleships ever projected for the American Navy have been agreed upon by the Naval Construction, after several months of discussion over the important questions of battery, armor, speed, coal capacity, and displacement. The three new vessels—to be called the Georgia, the New Jersey and the Pennsylvania—will equal in formidability the finest battleships yet laid down by any foreign Power, and with the American improvements will surpass in fighting force any ships now afloat.

The salient features of the design contemplate a displacement of 14,000 tons, as compared with the Oregon's 11,000. The speed is to be "at least nineteen knots," with a coal capacity of 2000 tons.

The total cost of each of these three ships when ready for sea will exceed $7,000,000 each. They will cruise 7000 miles straightway, and there will not be three ships of similar offensive and defensive strength in the fleet of any possible enemy.

L. T. Travis, agent Southern Railroad, Seville, Ga., writes: "I cannot say too much in praise of One Minute Cough Cure. In my case it worked like a charm." The only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. City Pharmacy.

Tobacco Juice in France.

Tobacco juice, rich in nicotine and warranted, is kept for sale at all tobaccoists in France. It is tested by Government, and contains five to six times the proportion of nicotine found in ordinary tobacco juice. For spraying plants it is mixed with 100 parts of water. The spraying is done after sunset, and the plants are sprinkled with clean water next day. For fumigating hothouses, to destroy insects and parasites, it is diluted with five parts of water and sprayed on hot bricks or sheet iron. As a lotion to kill parasites on cattle it is mixed with twenty parts of water and applied gradually to the parts of the skin, avoiding sores. The above mixtures are improved by adding three and one-half ounces of soda crystals to each one and three-fourths pints of diluted juice.

A Russian Wolf Story.

"Well," said the red-faced man, "the most exciting case I ever had happened a few days in Russia. One night, when sleighing about ten miles from my destination, I discovered, to my intense horror, that I was being followed by a pack of wolves. I fired blindly into the pack, killing one of the brutes, and, to my delight, saw the others stop to devour it."

"After doing this, however, they still came on, I kept on repeating the dose, with the same result, and each occasion gave me an opportunity to whip up my horses. Finally there was only one wolf left, yet on it came, with its fierce eyes glaring in anticipation of a good, hot supper."

Here the man who had been sitting in the corner burst forth into a fit of laughter. "Why, man," he said, "by your way of reckoning that last wolf must have had the rest of the pack inside of him!"

"Ah!" said the red-faced man, "now I remember, it did wobble a bit."—London Tit-Bits.

D. BUFFINGTON Editor and Manager

FRIDAY JANUARY 12, 1900

INTRODUCTORY GREETING.

To all the patrons of the AMADOR LEDGER and the Amador Republican, Greeting: With last week's issue the LEDGER passed into the hands of the Amador County Publishing Company, owners for some years past of the Amador Republican. But the LEDGER has not fallen into the hands of novices. Those who assume its ownership and management are neither new to the newspaper business nor to the country in which they will operate and the interests of which they hope to serve. The enterprise they have undertaken is no experimental or speculative venture, but an enlargement of their already well established and growing business and an extension of their sphere of influence.

As publishers of the Republican we have received many most cheering proofs of the confidence and good will of the best and most influential citizens of this county, and most flattering notices and testimonials, though never solicited, have been frequently given by judicious men and the press of the State at large.

This support and encouragement, taken in connection with the present circumstances and prospects of the county, have formed the basis of the present action in taking this important step in advance. We have faith in the future and confidence in our friends, and as for ourselves we shall adopt as our aim and principle the sentiment expressed in the poet's lines:

"Tis not as mortals to command success,
But we'll do more, Sempronius, we'll deserve it."

No reasonable effort or expense will be spared to make the paper in the highest degree useful and acceptable to its patrons. It will not only be kept up to its former standard but an earnest and continued endeavor will be made to improve it. Whatever features of either paper have won favor, will be retained and strengthened and such others added as shall be deemed valuable and acceptable to the public. The Ledger ever will be a family paper and a business man's paper, clean, truthful and impartial but aggressive and progressive. In public matters it will vigorously support the right and strongly oppose the wrong.

The Amador County Publishing Company has great confidence in the future of this county, the natural wealth of which is unsurpassed if not unrivaled. The enterprises already under way, those provided for, and others sure to be soon inaugurated form a prospective development that is as alluring to men of energy, ambition and intelligence, as the vast treasures of our mineral veins are to men of capital. A new era has dawned upon the mineral belt of which Amador county is the center, in which we are to see activity, enterprise and success in all our varied industries, and especially in the chief one, mining, such as has never been seen before.

Here, then, is a most attractive field for journalism. To act as "Advance Agent of Prosperity," to help produce it and then, perhaps, share its rewards are the objects and hopes which have induced the publishers to increase so largely their investment and also their circle of acquaintance.

THE SENATORIAL PROBLEM.

The great and momentous question whether the sovereign State of California shall count for a half or a whole State in the Senate of the United States, remains, apparently, undecided. What causes this hesitation? Are not the facts all fully in the possession of our chief executive? Surely, it requires but an ordinary exercise of judgment to make both duty and policy so clear that vacillation becomes worse than a mistake.

Under the circumstances all citizens, who sincerely desire the good of the State, can have but one wish in the matter, and that is to see the Legislature convened and a Senator legally chosen. Those who hold any other opinion are influenced either by party or personal considerations and can justify themselves only by saying that non-representation is the less of the two evils which they believe or pretend are involved in a choice. It is easily conceivable that irreconcilable Democrats may feel so, and craftily labor to so confuse the minds of their Republican neighbors that they may act the part of those "who hesitate and are thereby lost." But common sense ought to show Republicans that their interest, as well as the good of the party, is directly opposed to such a half-hearted and timid course.

It is possible that Governor Gage may have been waiting to see what the Senate Committee would report on the claims of M. S. Quay to a seat as the appointee of Governor William A. Stone of Pennsylvania. Should the Senate seat Quay, Governor Gage would perhaps follow the Pennsylvania Governor's example and appoint a Senator confident of his being admitted and without the danger of another deadlock and a repetition of the unpleasantness and unpatriotic stubbornness displayed at Sacramento last Spring.

But such action is not desirable. In the first place the people will not accept executive action in the place of legislative duty. It will not place the Republican party in a favorable position before the people. Then, again, such an appointee could only hold his seat until the next meeting of the State Legislature, which will be less than a year from now, and the change made then would possibly give the place not only to another man, but to the opposing party. The former failure to elect, and the present inaction, cause popular discontent which may result in a Democratic Legislature next fall and if the present Assembly and Senate do not fill the place the next ones will, regardless of any temporary appointment by the Governor.

Let the Governor call them together according to law and then, laying aside all personal motives, attachments, prejudices and animosities, and keeping in view only their duty to the State and the party which is now the trustee of the public good, let them make the choice of a Senator to serve for the remainder of the term, about five and one-half years. This is the thing which should be done. The path of duty is clear and they who would hide or obstruct it are not actuated by patriotism or love of the Republican party.

ADVENT OF THE RAILROAD.

The division of sentiment in Amador county, along the Mother Lode, relative to the advisability or non-advisability of having a line of railroad running from the Southern Pacific terminus to Sutter Creek or Jackson, or to both, must have been—during the past few weeks—crystallized into a firm belief that such a road would be of incalculable benefit to all of the material interests of Amador county. The impassible condition of the wagon roads, and the congestion of freight at the Ione depot, all destined for points along the Mother Lode, are most convincing proofs that the present mode of transportation of freight—namely, by wagon—is deplorably inadequate for the volume of business to be handled. Three hundred thousand feet of lumber is today, and has been for some time, exposed to the weather in the railroad yards and the freight sheds are so full that, after wagon traffic opens, it will take months to get the merchandise and mining materials to their destinations, even if every available team and wagon is pressed into service.

The change in the condition of general business affairs which will be wrought by a railroad will not be so great as many people think. It is true that the men who are operating stages and freight-hauling outfits from the railroad at Ione to the various towns along the Mother Lode will be forced to find other employment for their men and teams, but, as the advent of the road will open up new avenues of industry and new enterprises, so it will provide new employment for all these and many more and thus make more than adequate compensation for the loss of labor in the transportation of freight and passengers from the Southern Pacific lines to the populous towns of the mining section of the county.

The railroad will change many conditions in our towns. With it will be infused into our business circles new blood and new capital; and while some of those now in business may be compelled to move farther back, where the army making the march of progress will not reach for twenty years to come, this will be no detriment to the general welfare of our communities, nor to the material interests of those progressive citizens who in the battle for business supremacy will once more illustrate the infallibility of the law of "survival of the fittest."

STORMS ON THE MOTHER LODE.

W. H. Storms, who has a record of successful research on the Mother Lode in connection with the State Mining Bureau with which he was associated in the performance of field work from 1892 to 1896, inclusive, has been selected by Governor Gage as "expert in the field" to give especial attention to the Mother Lode section from Mariposa to Nevada. Mr. Storms has commenced his work in Jackson, and is at present preparing the data for his report, which will be given to the public in the form of a bulletin about the middle of July and later be incorporated in a report to be issued by the State Mining Bureau.

Mr. Storms has the outlining of his work in his own hands, and has decided to devote his time to the securing of data which will give more details than have ever before been given in the field work of the State Mining Bureau, his theory being that the cost of mining and milling operations depend so much on conditions, which may vary in each mine, that to be of value the conditions must be stated. As to this matter the LEDGER agrees with Mr. Storms, and, as he is one of the most capable men ever sent out to do field work in the mining section, commends him to the mine owners and mine operators of Amador county, in the hope that they will give him any assistance in their power to make his work reliable and thus valuable.

Suicide at the Gwin.

A man named Hayton, aged about thirty-five years, committed suicide at the compressor plant of the Gwin mine Wednesday or Thursday morning. He was on night shift at the plant and shut it down at about 10:30 p. m. After trying to ring him up the head office sent a man down to see what was the matter, at about 2 a. m. He found the place open but shut down, so he went out to get assistance and returned, finding the door locked. When an entrance was effected they found Payton hanging to a beam, dead and his neck broken. He had thrown his neck broken. He had thrown a log chain over a beam and then had attached it to a rope, which he fastened around his neck. Apparently he had nailed cleats to the wooden cover to the machinery and walking up thereon jumped out, taking about an eight-foot drop. He left a note, in which he said that his friends had gone back on him, and that, rather than tell them about it, he would suicide. The note also asked that his money be sent to his sister in the East.

"Scotty" and Wife Serenaded. Last Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. M. Scatena were serenaded by several members of the original Jackson Band. The host and hostess accorded the visiting musicians a royal welcome and served refreshments consisting of roast turkey, candy, nuts and champagne, to which all did ample justice.

The members of the serenading party were: John Cademartori, Chas. H. Crocker, F. V. Sangulnetti, Ray Meehan, Ruel Parker, Vergilia Belluomini and Charles Neumann.

The torch bearers were Willis and George Folger.

"Dining-Room" "Up in Heaps."

Miss Lucy Hinkson was compelled to suspend her labors in the New National dining room last Saturday, owing to an attack of the mumps. She left for her home in Amador City on the 2:30 stage. Shortly after Miss Hinkson departed Miss Jessie Mitchell was called to the telephone by her father, who informed her of the death of her uncle, Richard Rogers, at the Keystone mine. She left immediately for her home. Mrs. F. A. Voorheis and Miss Nellie Muford, formerly a waitress at the National, fulfilled the dining room duties during their absence.

Likes His Job.

Lloyd Brubaker, well known among miners and others of this camp, arrived from Bear River Monday evening, the work there having been closed down for the winter. He will continue with the company, working on the new electric plant until spring, and then returning to Bear River. He is well pleased with the position he has, and is looking the picture of health.

"Sorris," the new shoe for women, at Show's Cash Store, Sutter Creek.

A Feline Retriever.

A gentleman who is stopping at the New National Hotel has a cat that will give the best dog in the land cards and spades and then beat him retrieving. The owner of the cat took no particular pains to teach it the trick. It just picked up the science along with other famous accomplishments of which it is possessed.

Has Careful Drivers.

If the Raggo stage and baggage line between Jackson and Ione was not provided with very careful drivers and the best of stock and vehicles accidents would certainly occur as the road in some parts is simply abominable. The stage line, however, being well equipped, passengers fell perfectly safe and hence travel is very good.

Information Wanted.

A letter addressed to the Mayor of Jackson, in which inquiry is made for a man named Lewis Albin, supposed to have been a resident of Jackson in 1897, was delivered to Thomas Greenhalgh, and now Mr. Greenhalgh is busy trying to ascertain something about the lost man. He is supposed to have died near here about a year ago.

Fine Oranges.

N. H. Baughman of Ione was in town Tuesday. He brought with him some very large oranges, several of which he gave to Senator John F. Davis and Judge R. C. Rust. He has a tree that is a prolific producer of robust and gigantic oranges.

Property in Demand.

Property near the old Moore mine is in demand. Evidently there are prospects ahead for the resumption of work at this old-time producer.

Sheep Ranch Mill Ready to Operate.

Mill-Building at the Oneida Is Delayed.

TO PUT NEW MACHINERY ON THE COCHONTAS

Operations at the Spagnolia, Centennial and Other Great Mines of the Mother Lode.

AMADOR COUNTY.

The Oneida-Jackson.

The work of mill building at the Oneida mine has been delayed seriously on account of the impossibility of hauling the lumber to be used in its construction from the depot at Ione to the mine. There is now at the Ione depot about 200,000 feet of lumber for that mill, which cannot possibly be hauled in a manner that will be profitable to either the owner or the team for some weeks to come. The delay already caused by bad roads will probably place the completion of the mill as late in the coming year as July. The development of the mine in the new shaft and on the levels therefrom continue under the efficient management of John Truscott, and whenever the sixty-stamp mill is completed the property will be so well opened that it can be kept running indefinitely. The repairing and reopening the old shaft is progressing rapidly and within a short time connections will be made between the old shaft and the new, thus producing a ventilation for the workmen in the mine than which there is none better.

Belmont Mine-Pioneer.

John McKelvey, who has a bond to purchase a mine from F. C. Turner, Samuel Folsom and Tom Westphal, with George Joyce as assignee of Westphal, is having some trouble in the matter. It seems that the first payment of $600 was due on the 2nd, and by request of Folsom and Westphal the date of payment was delayed for one week. On the 9th McKelvey paid one-third each to those gentlemen and Turner has refused to take his one-third. Mr. McKelvey does not purpose to be trifled with in the matter and will resort to the Courts, if necessary.

Centennial-Drytown.

The Centennial shaft is now down 630 feet, making about 330 feet sunk in the shaft by the company of which L. A. Gross is superintendent. At about 500 feet in depth a water tank was cut to the east of the shaft and in that the ledge was encountered, which shows from seventeen to eighteen feet in thickness. Three feet of it on the hanging-wall assays about $17.50 per ton, while the balance is of low grade. Sinking is still in progress and will be continued to 800 or 1000 feet before the ledge is prospected.

The Spagnolia-Clinton.

The development work on the Spagnolia mine, near Clinton, which is being prosecuted for the owners by David Fisher, is being prosecuted faithfully. This mine in olden days was very rich in specimen rock near the surface, and when the ledge is tapped at a depth of 200 feet—the 200-foot level is that from which crosscutting is being done to the ledge, whose familiar with the mine believe that a most valuable body of ore will be encountered. So mote it be.

Pocahontas-Drytown.

Superintendent McWayne of the Pocahontas is in San Francisco arranging to increase the capacity of the machinery and cables on the mine, so that the shaft can be carried from its present depth of 700 feet to 1200 feet. An east crosscut has been run which has cut a five-foot vein of very good appearing ore.

ALPINE COUNTY.

Gardenville Courier: Unless all signs fail, there will be considerable activity in mining operations in Alpine county next spring. The reported strike in the Colorado mine has been verified. But little ore has been taken out, but they have uncovered a rich streak of black ore which it is expected will lead to a large deposit. The ore bodies in this mine have been discovered in this way, and the present lead is the largest ever found in the mine.

EL DORADO COUNTY.

Placerville Nugget: The Superior (sometimes called the Tincup) Ribbon Rock and Hattie May mines on Weber creek are bonded to Alvin Hayward, the San Francisco capitalist, for the sum of $55,000 for a period of eighteen months.

H. H. Martin of Rawhide mine fame is the owner of the Superior mine, and Frank Goyan of Placerville, by a recent decision of the Superior Court, has been made owner of the Ribbon Rock. This bonding of the Ribbon Rock to Hayward ends the long litigation over that property between Mr. Goyan and Messrs Alexander and Cupham. E. A. Davis, the representative of Mr. Hayward, becomes superintendent of the combined properties, and Philip Maul, formerly of the Marguerite mine, has been appointed foreman.

CALAVERAS COUNTY.

San Andreas Prospect: At the Vindicator mine at Middle Bar, a crosscut will be run from the 150-foot level with PERSONAL MENTION.

E. B. Moore of the Sutter Hotel at Sutter Creek was a Jackson visitor Tuesday.

L. A. Gross of the Centennial mine at Drytown and his wife are guests at the National Hotel.

R. L. Marsh of the Jackson Butte mine has been "under the weather" for a few days lately.

J. E. Bachelder is a very happy man. His wife presented him with a bouncing baby on the 10th.

C. H. McKenney, the Amador County Tailor, is making his monthly trip in Amador county.

Edwin Rust has returned to the Oakland High School after spending the holidays with his people here.

Miss Lizzie Taylor has returned to her school duties at the Leland Stanford Junior University at Palo Alto.

Miss Christine Rickerts of San Francisco is visiting at the home of her uncle, Frank Hoffman, during the holidays.

John Porobeich, who was one of those injured December 16th, at the Gwin mine, returned to his work Tuesday morning.

Dr. Hutchins returned from a very pleasant visit to his home in Woodbridge, where he enjoyed the holidays with his family.

Miss May Fontenrose returned to the Convent at Stockton Monday, after having spent the holiday vacation in Amador county.

Misses Etta and Julia Ginocchio have returned to their home in Sacramento, after an extended visit with relatives and friends in Jackson.

F. L. Fisher, the popular representative of the H. S. Crocker Company of San Francisco, was doing business in Jackson this week.

Mrs. Kent and children returned from a visit to her parents in Woodbridge one day last week, after having had a pleasant "Christmas" with them.

D. Boro, who for many years has lived at South Junction, this week moved into the stone mansion he recently bought in the Hamilton tract.

J. C. McKelvey, who is interested in mining in the Pioneer district, near the Defender property, went up to his mine this week from his home in Oakland.

Attorney Stewart of Ione returned from San Francisco last Sunday; also, Hon. John R. Tregloan of Amador City. Both gentlemen visited the county seat Tuesday.

L. N. Keagle was called to Stockton this week on account of the severe illness of his father, who is visiting relatives in that city. Mr. Keagle Sr. is a resident of Redlands.

J. W. Caldwell and wife returned from their wedding trip Saturday night, and are now keeping house in a residence prepared for them on the Mason Addition.

F. Waggars, who lost his leg by an accident in the Zella a few weeks ago, was not getting along very well at the first of the week, and it now seems that his recovery is impossible.

Leopold Newman, a brother of George Newman, and a former resident of Jackson, but now of the grocery firm of Bibb, Newman & Ikenburg of San Francisco, was a Jackson visitor this week.

Supervisor A. B. McLaughlin of Volcano was in Jackson this week in company with a gentleman who is looking at some mining property—in which Mr. McLaughlin is interested—with a view to purchasing it.

W. R. Woodward and C. L. Jaeger, accompanied D. Gutmann over the line of the new railroad from Ione to Jackson Wednesday. When here the entire party went to Sheep Ranch Thursday and returned to the Ford mine at San Andreas to visit that property.

On the Sutter Creek Boards.

From the columns of the Record the people are informed that the play "Better Than Gold" is in preparation at Sutter Creek, with the editor of the Record as manager and, at the same time, in the chief role. This from the man who had the temerity to criticize the selection of "Confusion," Nat Goodwin's masterpiece and "Joshua Whitcomb," Denman Thompson's success, by the Jackson Historic Club, is more than mortal man can bear. WEALTH OF POPE LEO XIII

Unlike Pius IX. He Possesses a Frugal Mind.

ENOUGH VALUABLE PRESENTS TO FILL A MUSEUM

Has Amassed $20,000,000, the Most of Which Is in the Bank of England.

Perhaps it is hardly reverent to mention the Pope in the same breath as Mrs. John Gilpin, but in one point he strongly resembles her. Like her, he possesses "a frugal mind."

His predecessor, Pope Pius IX, was as open handed a man as one would imagine him to be from the very sight of the pleasant, smiling face, so familiar to all from his portraits. He loved to make people happy, and therefore, though he received an immense number of valuable presents, he generally found that somebody needed them far more than he needed them himself. If a priest came to him and told him that his altar needed decoration, Pope Pius would make him a picture for it, or if a charity needed funds, and a bazaar was held with that object, the Pope would contribute a beautiful jeweled cross or some other valuable to be raffled for.

But the "frugal mind" of Pope Leo XIII does not prompt him to act in this way, and consequently he has amassed enough valuable presents to fill a museum, and his jewels are famous for their worth and beauty. He is the owner of the largest diamond in the world, and this, oddly enough, was given to him by that staunch Protestant, President Kruger. It is valued at $4,000,000.

Among the Pope's treasures are thirty tiaras set in diamonds, emeralds, rubies and pearls, and one of gold, thickly studded with diamonds and topazes which shoot out rays of white and orange light. Then he has 100 rings, one of the most magnificent being a present from the Sultan. This ring contains a marvelously beautiful blue diamond and is valued at $100,000. Of gold crosses the Pope has no less than 318, set with all kinds of precious stones. Besides 1200 chalices and 900 ostensils for the exposition of the host, he possesses eighteen pastoral staves, all these things being of richly chased silver or of gold and adorned with diamonds, emeralds, rubies or other precious stones.

The Pope also possesses a number of statues of gold and silver, those representing the Blessed Virgin having crowns of the richest jewels. Besides all these jewels there are a thousand other valuables—statues, pictures, porcelain, etc.

The Pope is said to have amassed $20,000,000, the greater part of which is in the Bank of England and the rest in various state banks. He is considered by Romans to be an excellent financier and an accomplished diplomat. Not only has he entirely freed the Holy See from debt; but every year there is a good surplus.

Is a Good Thing.

Muddy complexions, nauseating breath come from chronic constipation. Karl's Clover Root Tea is an absolute cure and has been sold for fifty years on an absolute guarantee. Price 25c and 50c. For sale by A. Goldner, Druggist.

They Had Agreed.

Clerk of the Court—Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon a verdict?

Foreman—We have.

Clerk—What say you? Do you find the prisoner guilty or not guilty?

Foreman—We do.

Clerk—You do! Do what?

Foreman—We find the prisoner guilty or not guilty.

Clerk—But, gentlemen, you must explain your meaning.

Foreman—Certainly; you see, six of us find him not guilty, and six of us find him guilty, and we have agreed to let it stand at that.

J. I. Berry, Loganton, Pa., writes, "I am willing to take my oath that I was cured of pneumonia entirely by the use of One Minute Cough Cure after doctors failed. It also cured my children of whooping cough." Quickly relieves and cures coughs, colds, croup, grip and throat and lung troubles. Children all like it. Mothers endorse it. City Pharmacy Reservation.

"While it is true," replied the Pale Face, "that I made a compact with you, it was with a mental reservation." Here the untortured Red Man manifested bewilderment.

"Is that the next reservation I shall be compelled to live on?" he asked, anxiously, his quavering voice betokening the depth of his emotion.

Ah, such is destiny, to say nothing of the growing scarcity of pine timber.—Detroit Journal.

F. B. Thirkield, Health Inspector of Chicago, says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cannot be recommended too highly. It cured me of severe dyspepsia." It digests what you eat and cures indigestion, heartburn and all forms of dyspepsia. City Pharmacy

A Bunch of Trouble.

Old Utility—McTie's stage career was an utter failure.

Miss Footlights—Didn't he score a hit?

Old Utility—Yes, on the night before his company disbanded the gallery gods completely buried him in eggs. But that was only a part of his trouble. The grocer around the corner claimed that the missiles had been stolen from him and he had McTie arrested for receiving stolen property.

Where It Failed.

"Ah, yes," they sighed, "love will find a way."

But they learned that it wouldn't when they reached the station three minutes before train time and discovered that he had left his tickets and money in his other clothes.

Wheat in Oklahoma.

Oklahoma enjoys the unique distinction of being the only State or Territory east of the Rocky mountains which produced more wheat in 1899 than in 1898. The Government statistician at Washington gives Oklahoma credit for 1,218,000 acres sown with winter wheat and a crop of 16,202,000 bushels. Only twelve of the forty-six States of the Union raised more wheat than Oklahoma did this year. The prominent grain States which produced less than Oklahoma are Missouri, Illinois, Michigan, Kentucky, Tennessee, Maryland and Texas.

Size doesn't indicate quality. Beware of counterfeits and worthless salve offered for De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. De Witt's is the only original. An infallible cure for piles and all skin diseases. City Pharmacy.

Ah! So It Is.

"Where is the pain?" asked the physician.

"Oh, I don't know, doctor!" groaned the patient. "It hurts so I can't tell where it is."

"Just so," said the doctor, proceeding to fill a small vial from a larger one. "It's a wiseacre who knows where he aches."

Lewis Dennis, Salem, Ind., says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure did me more good than anything I ever took." It digests what you eat cannot help but cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. City Pharmacy.

Uncalled-for Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the Jackson, Cal., Postoffice, for the week ending January 5, 1900:

Smith, Mrs. Kate

G. C. FOLGER, Postmaster.

Important to Know This.

"You advertised for an experienced office boy, sir."

"Well, are you that kind of a boy?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you mean you are experienced at work or experienced in getting out of it?"

An Absurd Question.

Tippie—Had you known your husband very long when you married him?

Sibyl—What a foolish question! Do you think I'd have married him if I had?

The Family Entrance.

"Ah," the poet sighed, "we have no longer the wayside inn—"

His friend interrupted him. "But the side way amounts to the same thing," he said.

Among the Breakers.

Long—Family troubles, eh? What rock did your domestic split on?

Short—It was the absence of "rocks" that caused the split.

MISCELLANEOUS.A Grocer Says

"I guess everybody in Bellevue, Ohio, knows O. B. Callaghan, the grocer. I am in his employ, and an about as well known as he is. A grocery is a place where you have cold gusts of wind coming in every time the door opens, and there is a good deal of running about outdoors too. Anyhow, I catch cold very often, but the minute I begin to sneeze I reach up on the shelf and take a dose of Acker's English Remedy. I tell you it is wonderful how quickly it stops a cough or cold. I have used it myself, and in my family for a number of years. It works like a charm. I suppose some of the folks would have run into consumption before this if I had neglected to keep a bottle ready all the time for immediate use. I wouldn't think of using anything else for throat and lung troubles. I know what Acker's Remedy actually does, so what sense is there in experimenting? Certainty is better than chance." (Signed) JOHN HOFF.

Sold at 25c, 50c, and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s. 2d., 2s. 3d., and 4s. 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back.

We authorize the above guarantee.
